- Sure you have had some days when nothing turns out right. This happens to everyone, and if you don't think so, just check this out...

First, SHE doesn't care about the size of the pothole...

Then, SHE accelerates to get out of there...

Pay attention to where this “gentleman” is...

By now, the car engine is likely to be “dead”...

The elderly people who first complained about getting wet, are getting worried, because of what may happen to our lady driver...

Look at this guy's looks!

desperate

Three guys tried to get the car out of there by hand...

This is the only one who tries to do something for our lady driver!

What are these guys looking at?

She dives, trying to reach the "shore"

Why help? I can see it all very well from here!

One thing is sure: these guys are full of good intentions

MY CAR

What the heck!
I am tired of this...

Man! It is going under!

This "chap" didn't even budge from here all this time!

But did anyone think these guys could save the car?

Gluglu glu glu glupf glupf...

Just check the size of this pothole!

Next time you complain about the potholes in your town!

THE END!
